

Regardless of the formality of the relationship, I always try to write out
a document that serves as a formal proposal.

"Nothing clarifies something quite like expressing in written language."